

Dear Sir / Madam,

It is with a high motivation and enthusiasm that I write to apply for the internship positions posted by Netinfo on the website of the TAEF program in the domains of management and marketing.

I have long looked for such an opportunity to enrich my experience in a professional context.

The great reputation of the TAEF program has sparked my enthusiasm to apply for this job as soon as I saw the advertisement. The amalgamation of my experience in leadership positions in non profit organizations and clubs and my academic background make me believe I will also be a valuable asset with high added value to the company I work at.

My experience as a vice president and project manager taught me that highly motivated human resources and a great plan can create wonders, and that a well-founded marketing strategy can rocket visibility and boost sales and profit as a guaranteed result.

As mentioned in my answers to the form and in my CV, I am extremely confident that my university studies are preparing me for a glorious career in management and marketing. My varied professional and volunteer experience has strengthened my ability to get along with people from different age categories and socio-cultural backgrounds. I am originally a very flexible and sociable person and this experience would perfect my outstanding communication skills.

I am eager to learn and passionate about my work and getting it done is the most important for me. Looking forward to a positive reply, I remain available for further information at any time.

Thank you for your consideration.

Kindest regards,

Bilel Ben Arbia
