Dear Recruiter:

I am writing in response to the position of Intern of digital marketing at your company, Vynd. One that caught my attention thanks to how the company's goals align with mine.

My name is Mohamed Hedi Dhaouadi, currently a second year student at Tunis Business School and a marketing director at the international NGO Junior Chamber International Tunis Business School.

After having spent a year in marketing for the same NGO, from content writing to designing and for 5 months now been the marketing and communication director, i feel ready to transition into an experience that would offer more challenges and opportunities, ones that i could face using the skills i learned and the perspective i developed through the experience i mentioned earlier and through many more experiences with national and international associations

I have been observing the online and offline presence of the company for a while now, in addition to generally observing all the NGOs and startups in hopes to learn more about the field. This has led me to get some ideas that could influence the brand positively, and thanks to my skills in communication, creative & critical thinking and my ability to adapt quickly, i feel very confident about achieving said influence along learning much more about the field and ecosystem.

For more information about my qualifications and experiences, please refer to my attached resumé, i would greatly appreciate the chance to discuss this more in detail!

Thank you for considering my application

Sincerely ,
Mohamed Hedi Dhaouadi
